Art Workshop & Exhibition

22.02.21-23.02.21

The annual art workshop and exhibition 'Art Beat' was organized on 22 March and 23 March by the Society for Promotion of Art and Culture (SPArC) of Karim City College.

An art workshop was organized on 22 March in which all the participants displayed their own style of art and created new art objects in the college campus itself. The workshop was inaugurated by Dr. Mohammed Reyaz, the principal of the college, with an artwork on the canvas. SPArC's convener Dr. S M. Yahiya Ibrahim and Fine Arts teacher, Apoorva Dey were also present in the workshop.

An exhibition of artifacts made by the college students was organized on 23 March. At the opening ceremony of this exhibition, chief guest Shehla Karim, distinguished guest Megha Goswami, college secretary Dr. Mohammad Zakaria, professor Dr. Neha Tiwari, Saket Kumar and Fine Arts' teacher Apoorva Dey were present. The students had set up an exhibition of their beautiful paintings. College alumni Shubham Gorai, Riya Mukherjee, Deepak Raj, and Sunny Sinha also displayed their artifacts in this exhibition. Guests and college professors applauded the creative skills and hard work of all the students and also bought handicrafts and other creations from the stalls to boost their skills. The exhibition was open for the general public from 4:00 pm- 6:00 pm. Debjit Paul, art teacher of Jamshedpur Public School, and Dr. Mohammed Reyaz, principal of the college, were present at the closing ceremony of the exhibition. The main objective of this event was to encourage students in the field of arts.

"Gharaunda", the first play was mainly the story of two financially weak lovers who are deprived of marriage due to a lack of money, but one of the lover's bosses is very prosperous. He is an ill widower, and the lover persuades the girlfriend to marry him and when the boss would die, which was clearly visible, he would take advantage of his property and he and his beloved girlfriend will get married later. However, after the girlfriend finally got married to the boss, the boss's health became better and both of them agreed happily to live their lives together.

The name of the final play was "Last Wish". This is mainly the story of an old writer and director, who is struggling to get his writing published in a magazine, but his daughter-in-law remains against him. At the same time, the son of the old man supports his father, unlike his wife. The father's wife's last wish was that her husband's writing must appear in the magazine and with this last wish she had died. The son had tried his best to fulfill his mother's last wish, but the old man also died before he could see his writings get published.

Thus, the play on these two different subjects entertained the audience. The actors of these plays were Prateek Chaurasia, Nitish Saluja, Gajendra Kumar, Imran Sheikh, Nazneen Ara, Aniket Karan, Avanth Kumar, Sneha Kumari, Niharika Sahu, Gaurav Roy Akash Kumar Jha, Divyani Kumari, Diwakar Kumar, and Rakesh Chandra Gondua.

In this era of lockdown, where the opening of schools and colleges now seems like a dream, it seems even more difficult to organize a program successfully.

In order to keep the students connected with literature and culture even in these circumstances, a Mushaira named 'Aaeena-e-Shab' was organized by the Society for Promotion of Art and Culture (SPARC) of Karim City College from 7 pm last day. Eminent urdu poets Sajid Hamid, Anisur Rahman, Ain Tabish, Khurshid Hayat, aj Azmali, and Sarfaraz Nawaz presented their poems in this conference. The event was organized through Google Meet in which the secretary of the college, Dr. Mohammad Zakaria, principal Dr. Mohd. Reyaz, convener of SPArC, Dr. S. M. Yahiya Ibrahim, professors of the college, all the members of the SPArC student committee and several other students participated. Apart from this, for other college students and literature fans, who have unfortunately missed the event, the entire program has been uploaded on YouTube. The program was hosted by Professor Ahmed Badr of the college. SPArC's Cultural Secretary Nafis Mustafa finally concluded the program with a vote of thanks to all.

Monsoon Melodies

18.06.21

To celebrate the arrival of Monsoon, SPArC, Karim City College organised a musical event, Monsoon Melody on 18th June. Due to the covid crisis, the event was carried out online, on the YouTube channel of SPArC. The singers featured in this event were none other than the college alumni, and a well known band of Jamshedpur, called “Mizaaj”. The band members are Ajay Roy, Amit Emmanuel, Navneet Singh, Samson Tudu and Samson Varun.

An evening dedicated to monsoon was a treat to all the music lovers. These 5 singers with their individual and group performances left the audience spellbound. A good number of viewers came to witness the event, and their appreciation made the event a grand success. The event was supported and conceptualized by the convener of SPArC, Dr. S. M. Yahiya Ibrahim and the professor in-charge, Dr. Mohammad Reyaz, and successfully conducted online by the SPArC team members.

In the COVID crisis where it's difficult to keep ourselves motivated, SPARC, Karim City College had taken the initiative to keep the lamp of art ignited within us.

On 25th June, the birth centenary of great filmmaker Satyajit Ray, SPARC, Karim City College, paid homage to this divine soul through a webinar. The webinar was carried out on Google meet. The guest speaker for this event was a very renowned nationally and internationally awarded filmmaker, professor and dean at Satyajit Ray Film and Television Institute, Kolkata — Mr. Ashoke Vishwanathan. The session was an interactive one, where the speaker revisited the greatness and talked about the peculiarities of Satyajit Ray. The participants then satisfied their curiosity about the genius filmmaker by raising queries. The webinar helped the audience and the participants to gain additional knowledge and perspective about cinema. The webinar was supported by the convener of SPArC, Dr. S. M. Yahiya Ibrahim and professor in-charge, Dr. Mohammad Reyaz. The event was hosted by Nafis Mustafa, the cultural secretary of SPArC.

Aaeena-e-Shab 2.0

During this span of lockdown, connection of thoughts has become a great trouble for mankind. Schools, colleges and universities are all closed for an uncertain period of time. In these circumstances, it is quite difficult to organise an event in which intermingling of ideas would take place through poems (Shayari) successfully.

In order to keep students connected with literature and culture, a Mushaira

The first attempt by the Book Club of SPArC, Karim City College, to make students book friendly was successful.

Book Talks were organized by the Book Club of Society for Promotion of Art and Culture (SPArC) of Karim City College on Monday, the title of which was "Autobiography, the Shadow and the Substances" of a famous actor and tragedy king, Dilip Kumar. The main theme of the event was "The Man, the Actor, the Icon. Book Club is a platform of SPArC in which book exchange, book donation for those who are unable to buy a book due to financial constraints takes place. In this, not only the syllabus but also other types of books will be made available. Book talk related to book club was organized, in which Prof. Aseem Siddiqui was present. He shared many activities of Dilip Kumar's life. Discussed by him, in this authoritative autobiography, Vajud and Parichay, is the journey of his life from his birth to the last days. He conveyed his journey from Yousuf Khan to Dilip Kumar to the audience very well. Prof. Asim kept the very struggling life of his life in front of everyone, which played an important role in making this event successful and reaching the objective. When Dilip Sahab placed his first earnings in his mother's hand, she made him swear "Quran-e-Pak", and played the role of Raj Kapoor, Devika Rani, Himanshu Rai and other personalities in his life. His major films Mughal E Azam, Devdas and Andaz, which gave him a different identity in height, and much more information was provided, that is, in this book talk, there was talk of many such knowledge, which would help the students in literature, society, historical events, novels, literary journalism, and attract more success, which are the objectives of this book club; Satisfying the initiative to engage with books, this event was the first book talk by Book Club to be telecast live via Google Meet, with guest's welcome and introduction by Dr. S. M. Yahia Ibrahim, Director, SPaRC, hosted by Ujwala Malvika, in which the principal of Karim City College,

Dr. Mohammad Reyaz, Basudhara Roy, Ashok Das, Saket Kumar and other professors were also present on the occasion. All the members of SPArC were also present. Vote of thanks was given by Ekta Dogra. A version of this program will also be put on YouTube, and all important information related to it can be found from the official site of SPArC.

supported by the principal, Dr. Mohammad Reyaz. The SPArC student committee members and the students of the college joined and made it a successful event.

Felicitation Ceremony 24.08.21

Society for Promotion of Art and Culture (SPArC), Karim City College organized a felicitation ceremony for the members of the descending committee on Tuesday, 24th August. In this program, the students of the 2020-21 session were appreciated for organizing different types of events throughout the year and handling everything smoothly. SPArC's chief organizing secretary, Ritam Nandi, gave a brief description of the events organized during his tenure. This year, SPArC has increased its scope by forming a book club, as well as organizing many online programs in the face of the pandemic situation. All the members of the committee were awarded certificates praising them for performing their responsibilities properly. Apart from this, Yousuf Sarfaraz, Ekta Dogra and Vinay Anand were awarded the Principal's Medal of Appreciation for their special efforts. Nafis Mustafa was awarded the Commendation Award for Outstanding Cultural Influence. Ritam Nandi and Kushal Ganeriwal were awarded with special commendation awards for leading the entire committee excellently. Apart from this, the winners of the creative writing competition 'Qalamkar', which was organized earlier, were also rewarded.

SPArC convenor, Dr S. M. Yahiya Ibrahim, appreciated the hard work of all the students and wished them all the best for their bright future. Dr. Mohammad Reyaz, principal of the college, expressed his pride for the team and congratulated everyone. Kahkashan Khanam performed the responsibility of conducting the stage very well. Manish Mukhi concluded the program by thanking everyone. The entire program was organized in full compliance with the SOP guidelines of Covid-19.
