The beginning...

In the academic session of 2003-2004 students of Karim City College participated in the Ranchi University Youth Fest. We showed our real talent there, bagged several prizes and returned with pride.

Our seniors realized the hidden potential and with the encouragement and support of college authorities came up with the Society for Promotion of Art and Culture; popularly known as SPArC. SPArC is a platform for the students to channelize their latent energy, to ventilate their creative force and to inculcate a love for culture and a passion for art.

For achieving its goal SPArC organizes literary and cultural programmes in the campus and also ensures students participation in co-curricular activities outside the campus. By doing this SPArC is striving to make the student multidimensional and is also trying to keep them away from destructive forces. Hence creating a positive persona among them and also making the campus student centric and vibrant too is the real aim of SPArC.

Under the support and guidance of our principal and patron Dr. Mohammad Zakaria and Convenor Prof. S.M Yahiya Ibrahim, SPArC is attaining great heights today and will always endeavour towards inculcating a competitive urge, a creative force, a cultural sense and a love for art among the students of the college.

The pillars of SPArC

SPArC comprises of four clubs and two forums which look after its activities and organise a number of events throughout an academic session. Each club and forum is headed by a student-monitor and a few student-members. Under the guidance of the executive committee and with the co-operative efforts of the members of the student committee these clubs and forums are functioning smoothly towards ensuring student participation in co-curricular activities.

- Music Club : Learning Sur and Raga could be one of the most sweet thing to do. The music club trains students in classical, semi classical, folk and ghazal singing. Music classes are held on every Sunday evening under the supervision of Mr. Chandan Brahama and Mr. Reyaz Khan. It also organises Sham-e-Ghazal and the singing competition Sur Sangat during the annual literary and cultural fest SATRANG.
- Literary Club : Thoughts are expressed through writing and speaking. Keeping this in mind the literary club organises Kahani Zabani (a bi monthly story session), elocution contest, debate competition and Vichar Var, a debate and JAM competition held annually during SATRANG.
- Drama Club : Acting could be one of the best ways to express one's emotion. Drama classes are held on every Sunday under the instruction of Mr. Shivilal Sagar. The drama club organises theatre workshops and Adakari, a skit and mono acting competition under SATRANG.
- Fine Art Club : Painting and sketching are arts that give shape and colour to our visions and dreams. The members and students belonging to the fine art club have made the college proud by winning prizes in painting, rangoli, collage and t-shirt painting. The club comes up with Strokes, a painting, sketch and collage competition during SATRANG.
- Discussion Forum : The main job accomplished by this forum is to take important decisions regarding the organization of events and group meeting of its members. It also holds group discussions and guest lectures. The forum organises Enigma, the yearly quiz competition under SATRANG.
- H.R Forum : It ensures manpower management and also looks after the organizational set up of SPArC. The HR forum is also concerned with media and the press. The events of our college must be brought to limelight and this job is fulfilled by this forum.

Memories of our achievements

Our recent past is studded with terrific accomplishments which have brought glory to our college. Let's take a glimpse on some of our activities.

JINKS 10

For the last two consecutive years our college has been participating in JINKS which is an all India event organized by NIFFT (National Institute of Foundry and Forge Technology), Ranchi. Our Students were given the golden opportunity to show their talent outside the campus in this all India level competition.

Overall 42 students participated in different cultural events of JINKS this year. With hard work, creativity, dedication and passion we won 14 prizes in the events like Creative Writing, Collage, Drama, Fashion Show, Allegation and Clarification, Singing, Dancing, Antakshari and many more.

The 3 day stay at NIFFT is marked by tough competition, enjoyment and learning. Students participated with a zeal to win and to bring laurels for the college.

The team was logistically supported by Syed Sajid Perwaiz and his camera crew.

SHANTI-SATRANGI

Our college participated in Shanti Satrangi 2010, the first Youth Festival of Kolhan University. A team of 20 participants went to Chaibasa in this three day fest and bagged the 'overall championship trophy'.

Altogether, we participated in events like Drama, Solo singing, Group singing, Debate, Painting, Dance, Painting etc and won 7 prizes.

Shanti Satrangi was filled with fun and frolic. With a tough competition Karim City College outshined others and came out peacefully coloured in pride with a big champions trophy.

With this the Karimans once again proved that hard work and dedication never goes unrewarded.

SATRANG

Hidden potential and talent needs to be recognised and to be given a chance of expression. With this thought in mind SPArC came up with Satrang, a cultural and literary fest held annually in the college premises.

Satrang has events which are as follows :

- Adakari - the skit and mono acting competition
 - Strokes - the painting, sketch and collage competition
 - Vichaar Var - the debate competition
 - Sur Sangat - the singing competition(Sufi / Folk, Film & Ghazal)
 - Enigma - the Quiz Competition
- One more event and a new category has been introduced from this year:
- Jhanak - the classical and folk dance competition
 - JAM (just a minute) - speaking on a given topic for a minute

This cultural and literary week is managed and conducted by the SPArC student committee with co-ordination and guidance provided by Prof. Ahmad Badr and Prof. S.M Yahiya Ibrahim, convenor SPArC.

We the poets...

Writing is a wonderful way of expressing ones thoughts and emotions and this needs to be encouraged among youths . Thinking of the budding writers and poets, SPArC organized the very first self composed poetry competition We the poets ; on Oct 21,2010.

40 participants came up with their self composed poems in English, Hindi and Urdu and presented it before a good gathering of students and teachers. The participants beautifully depicted their thoughts in the stanzas which were very appealing and surprised many with their maturity in writing.

We the poets was appreciated by all and was a huge success . The SPArC team gives the credit of its success to all the student-poets of the college.

Annual Competition of Muslim Library

Students of Karim City College has the winners attitude in them, seeing this the college sent a team to the annual competition of Muslim Library, Jamsdhedpur. Our students got a chance to participate in competitions like speech ,essay writing, singing, quiz, painting etc. We rocked with 9 prizes and once again showed that we are different and the best.

All India Drama competition

Our drama team was sent to Alwar, Rajasthan to participate in the All India Drama Competition. The team comprising of 15 students went for a week to showcase their talent in Alwar. The team under the supervision of the drama teacher Mr. Shivalal Sagar presented two plays and came up with three awards; best actress, best lighting and the President's special award for best play.
