(Discussion with respected Prof. Noam Chomsky Sir)

Programme Outcome

After completion of FYUGP Students will develop following skills:

- PO1: Students should be able to demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of major philosophical doctrines such as metaphysics, epistemology, logic, ethics, aesthetics and political philosophy.
- PO2: Proficiency in understanding and analyzing the works of major philosophers throughout history, ranging from classical to contemporary thinkers.
- PO3: Ability to critically evaluate philosophical arguments, theories, and concepts through logical reasoning and rigorous analysis.
- PO4: Understanding and application of ethical theories and principles to analyze moral dilemmas and ethical issues.
- PO5: Awareness of how philosophical ideas intersect with other disciplines such as science, literature, psychology, and politics.
- PO6: Application of philosophical reasoning to address contemporary issues and problems, proposing reasoned solutions or insights.

Mentoring

Objective

To support students in developing critical thinking, ethical reasoning, research skills, and career paths while cultivating their intellectual curiosity in philosophy.

Faculty mentors encourage students to engage in discussions and debates about key philosophical issues, challenging assumptions and refining reasoning abilities.

Encouraging students to publish their research papers in journals or present at academic conferences, providing exposure and experience in the field.

Mentors provide encouragement, helping students build self-esteem, particularly when facing academic challenges or personal doubts about their future.

Faculty encourage students to engage in discussions about social justice, human rights, and ethical responsibility, preparing them to contribute thoughtfully to society.

Strength

- ❖ Department has large number of text reference books in the college library.
- ❖ Faculty members have many publications.
 - ❖ Good teacher-students relationship.
 - ❖ Student centered teaching.
- ❖ Encouragement for the participation in extracurricular activities.

Weakness

- ❖ Lack of student's attraction to the subject due to misconception about the subject.
- ❖ Syllabus is not accordance to the demand of job perspective.
 - ❖ Research work.
- ❖ Coaching for Preparation for competitive exams.
 - ❖ Low progression rate of students in higher education.

Opportunities

- ❖ To make them comprehend the true meaning of life or philosophy as a way of life.
- ❖ How to think critically, how to express ideas clearly and confidently.
- ❖ How to recognize, evaluate, and formulate persuasive arguments.
- ❖ How to have meaningful philosophical discussions with others about topics that matter.

Challenges

- ❖ To annually issue a departmental magazine.
- ❖ Lack of Job opportunity in higher education.
 - ❖ Lack of awareness about the subject.
- ❖ Lack of student's goal oriented interest in the subject.

THANK YOU.
